Additional information

- Please look over the chapters in the book and read any handouts before class time.
- There will be three assignments that will require a little outside preparation before class time: an individual presentation, a group presentation, and a debate. Please be prepared for those assignments on the day they are to be given.
- Please speak English during class time, regardless of if we are inside the classroom or not (as we will sometimes have class outside of the classroom). Getting used to thinking and expressing yourself in English will help your speaking ability and fluency. If you need help expressing your ideas, please ask me for help anytime during or outside of class or ask your fellow students for help during break times, before class, or after class.
- If you cannot come to class, please let me know in advance, so that I can tell you what you will miss.
- And most importantly please try your best in every activity that we do. You will receive much more benefit from this class if you put in your best effort. If you don't try hard, it will be hard to get positive results. Making mistakes or having problems is okay as long as you try. Some of the best lessons are learned by making mistakes.
