

ENG 3850

Writing about Culture & Society

Task 1: Group Prosumer Project Proposal and Contract

Summary:

Propose what you will make and break it into smaller pieces. Explain who will be responsible for each piece and when they will need to be completed. Plan outside of class meetings and offer contact information

Due Date:

Tuesday, October 11th

Basics

The basics are the minimum requirements for the Proposal.

- As a group, decide on the specific text you will make. This should be very specific. Clarify the type of text, the modes used, the approximate length, and other relevant details.
- Break the task down: first determine what assets need to be collected, such as tools needed (video camera, mics, etc.) and media needed (legal video and audio clips, still images, interviews, etc). Also break down the task into smaller pieces, such as shooting, editing, sound design, and so on. Determine who will be responsible for what, and when the various tasks need to be completed. Give specific due dates when possible.
- Plan specifically when you will meet. This includes as a whole group or only a partial group. Give specific times and locations. If you are not meeting in person, give the information about how you will meet digitally.
- Include contact information. At minimum, phone numbers and emails are required. If you prefer to use a different way to stay in contact (Slack is really useful, for example), give that information as well.
- Submit your proposals in a group folder created for the Group Prosumer Project. Share this folder with me and all group members. Your files should be named with your names, your class, and the assignment (i.e. Malcolm Reynolds, Jayne Cobb, and River Tam ENG 3850 Group Prosumer Proposal).

Grading

Grading is relatively simple for “Tasks.” If you complete all steps, you get full credit. If you do not, you receive a deduction for each incomplete piece.